

THE COMMONWEALTH.

From the Chicago Journal.
The Typoid in the House, and out of it.

We hold our strength, the strongest of us—by a very fragile tenure. We talk about the feeble clinging of withered leaves to the shivering stem, but the anchorage here, in this twisted cable, compared with our grasp upon that thing we love so well—physical strength.

Let a few breaths of fever's simoon creep along the river of life—let them call it Typoid, and let it turn with its low, dull, unquenchable flame, day after day, night after night, never subsiding, and where is your strong man?—A horizontal, helpless creature, whose energy, whose "natural force," whose every thing he goes for fuel, and for once in his life he is like Caesar, calling to somebody, if not to Titinius, "Give me some drink!"

Moving a burning foot here and there in the spacious bed, for a cool place, but the bed an Egyptian oven; spreading out the glowing palms to the air, but the air sultry as brazen August; tossing impatiently from side to side, and thrusting away the hot pillows from the burning brow. And there are so many hours till morning, and so many days till the fever will go out of itself.

What luxury does Wealth procure from far, like that cool water applied by a cool hand, on the palms, on the breast, on the face, on the parched lips, on the brow, in blessed baptism.

And then what thoughts one has of ice cold streams in sunless alleys, where December's drifts linger on into the boom of June. O keen, sharp winds blowing out at the open windows of the North. Of long inspirations from the frosty goblet of the winter heaven. Of a pane of glass feathered with pines of silver ice, whereon one can lay his spread hands and be happy. Of a pleasant ride with Dr. Kane in the Arctic, and thermometers down, down in the Antarctic.

And how we thought, and sighed for the old days, when on summer afternoons, reclined on the cool mossy bank, the cold waters from the spring under the rock rippled over our bare feet, and the cool breaths of air played round the brow, and lifted the hair with its damp fingers.

Sometimes we grew dreary; now we heard the snow sift in delicious showers around the windows, and we played in the little white drifts that came in under the door; we were amid groves of frozen lemons, and how blessed was the crime and blessed were we!

But the waking came, and we were putting in the desert still and the cool hand was passing over our brow, and the clock in the next room, ticked like great sleigh bells, as if it were shaping the hot minutes whirled red and rustling from the furnace fire.

At last the fever began to burn low, and on the fourteenth day it went out, like a dull candle. There was no more tossing to and fro; no more seeking for cool places, but a languor, a weariness, a falling off to sleep. The hands are thin, but how heavy they have grown, and we lie and wait for new strength. And how it loiters by the way. To-morrow we shall rise, and the next day we shall do this or that; but to-morrow has gone, and the next day has followed it, and we yet press the pillow. By and by a little strength; we are bolstered up; it is a great day; we are certain we will gain. To-morrow we are going on a journey, and the bed is to carry chair just there before the fire. To-morrow comes and we set forth. Oh! we can walk—of course we can—and we plant our feet—a little more slowly, indeed, than we had calculated—on the carpet. That is capital; that is being somebody again. We shake off the aiding arm, and take a step. Like a squirrel in a wheel, we have set the room a-going; we did not know it was suspended on a pivot; we will look into it in a day or two; and we are fair to sit down upon the bed's edge, confessing that we are just a little weak yet. We grow bumptious and conclude to defer the journey awhile; to rest a trifle before we set out, and with a good deal of aid, we are seated in the chair, and looking out at a window upon the pleasant sight we have seen in a twelve-month—the gray, flowerless November prairie. Heavy clouds let down their shadows upon the foreground, but away there, as far as we could see, the sun was shining so gloriously, so like heaven, so like life, and we felt stronger as we exulted in its strength, that could o'er-master a November day, and light up the winter ground as if the golden Paeon had been over it forever. And so we crept out, as it were out, as it were, leechy as a young child, on the bosom of Nature, that never seemed so dear to us before, although it was cold and gray, yet so full of sleeping life and strength, that shall burst out by and by, with the falling of spring rains, and the sobbing of the birds; crept from the dim room with its eternal corners, and its feverish air, and its heavy smell of drugs, and its numberless vials with Latin annotations; crept out from amid the whispered utterances and the muffled steps, and the low talk about you in the other room you cannot quite catch, where everything is strong and free and outspoken.

But an unwearied friend admonishing us, we creep back again, and retrace our uncertain steps to the pillow, there to wait for more strength and greater things to-morrow. We will walk alone; we will be clothed, as we are in our right mind; we will be a man again; we will go to town in the cars; we will put in our wonted hour.

But time still puts us off, as if it were a child; there is something not quite right with our mood; something obstinate about the joints; "the silver cord" needs a little tightening, and we must wait until the repairs are completed.

There is a luxury in getting well, that cannot be told. To feel daily a slight accession of strength; a little stronger in the fingers; a little stronger in the feet; a step farther from the bed; an hour longer from the pillow; and all the while a little trepidation of joy, and a little tremulousness of fear. It is to the frame something like the coming of Spring to Nature, when we are not quite sure it has done snowing; not quite sure there is not a narrow breadth of Winter—a "relapse" you know—between us and the full blossom; feeling lest the Snowdrops and the Crocus should close their opening leaves "and be a bad again." There is an indescribable feeling of new life tingling in the veins, as though this machinery of ours were just in process of making, and only just now set a-going. Nature is full of compensations, and this "getting well" is not the least of them.

There is something a good deal humbling about being sick, anybody had indulged the pleasant fancy that he is essential to the diurnal motion of the Planet, let him shut himself up and be sick for a month or two. The world will learn in half a day to move on pretty well without him, and in eight and forty hours may have forgotten him altogether. He will find that he has disappeared from all mundane reckoning, even as a cypher upon a slate beneath the wetted finger of the schoolboy. The little place he filled even as a drop of rain, is occupied by another, and unless he have rocked something into immortality upon his breast, that shall speak for him when he is dumb, and live for him when he is dead, why then we ask.

Where are the birds that sang, An hundred years ago?

Al! to be the author of that Something, were worth ten years of mortal life.

A WHITE MAIDEN WEDS AN INDIAN LOVER.—A young lady who had lived for a number of years in the family of the Rev. J. B. Denham, Missionary among the Oneida Indians, as an adopted daughter, recently married a copper-colored lover, greatly to her parents' displeasure.

A dastardly attempt was made on Friday night last to set fire to the new Methodist church building. A barrel was filled with shavings and placed in close proximity to the work of the building and fired; the shavings being tightly packed to ignite, which prevented a calamity.—Paris Flag.

XXVth Congress—First Session. Monday's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 19.
SENATE.—Two messages were received from the President.

Senator King presented a petition in favor of a uniform bankrupt law; also the petition of Jas. W. Nye and 105 others in favor of the Homestead Bill.

Mr. Lane introduced a resolution providing that the Committee on Public Lands enquire into the expediency of making the 46th parallel as the boundary between Oregon and Washington.

The House bill authorizing the publishers to print on their papers the date when subscription expires, was taken up.

Mr. Yule reported an additional section, to the effect that the drop letters delivered in the large cities by carriers, be charged one cent postage instead of two as heretofore, which was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Johnson a resolution asking the President for information as to the Mountain Meadows massacre was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Mason a resolution was adopted asking the Secretary of State for information as to the proposed diplomatic mission from Japan.

Mr. Harlan introduced a bill to extend the right of pre-emption over the unsubmerged lands in Iowa.

Mr. Chandler moved to make the St. Clair Falls bill the special order for Tuesday next at 1 o'clock. Lost—yeas 23, nays 29.

The Homestead bill was taken up and Mr. Nicholson spoke in favor of the passage of the bill, after which the bill was postponed till Wednesday.

The bill declaratory of the acts of carrying in to effect the 9th article of the treaty of 1819 with Spain was taken up and a lengthy report made. The bill provides for the payment of the interest awarded by the U. S. Judges in East Florida as part of the satisfaction stipulated in the acts of 1823 and 1824.

Mr. Toombs said the principal had been paid, but the Secretary of the Treasury refused the interest. The question was, should the interest be paid. He contended that it should be. It was the practice of all nations in such cases to make payment under treaties. He cited numerous cases and opinions.

Mr. Mallory spoke in favor of the claim and gave a history of its origin. He urged the payment of the interest as just and equitable.—Adjourned.

House.—Mr. Morrill, from the committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill to provide for the payment of outstanding treasury notes or to authorize a loan regulating and increasing the duties on imports and for other purposes.

Mr. Sherman, from the same committee, reported a bill making appropriation for the necessary executive and judicial expenses of the government for the next fiscal year.

The committee on Commerce reported a bill making appropriations for the lighthouse establishment.

Mr. Haskell, from the committee on Public Expenditures, reported a bill repealing the act for forfeitures at Willett's Point.

Mr. Etheridge, from the committee on Indian Affairs, reported a bill providing for the payment of depredations committed by the whites on the Shawnees of Kansas.

Mr. Scott, from the same committee, reported a bill providing for the examination of the claims occasioned by the Indian depredations in New Mexico.

The above named bills were referred to the committee of the Whole on the state of the Union.

The House acted on several amendments to the rules heretofore reserved for separate votes, and one was adopted empowering the clerk to reserve order and decorum pending the election of Speaker.

Mr. Reagan moved to refer the Military Academy bill as returned from the Senate, with an amendment authorizing the calling out of a regiment of volunteers, to the Military committee, and spoke in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Cox made a speech in favor of affording material support to the Jurez Government of Mexico, saying there is an international law which would justify us in suppressing such a government as there is under Miramon at the capital.

Mr. Reagan said he wanted the people of Texas protected. Let those of Mexico protect themselves.

Pending the question to refer the subject to the Military committee the House adjourned.

Let it be remembered, that I, Q. C. Lamar, Reuben Davis, Wm. Barksdale, Otho R. Singleton and John J. McRae, Democratic members of Congress from this State voted for McClelland, a Douglas man, for Speaker, notwithstanding the Douglas doctrine has been denounced over and over again by the Democratic party of Mississippi as worse than Black Republicanism.

[Vicksburg Whig.]
Let it be remembered, that as long ago as Nov. 1855, Prentice of the Louisville Journal, suggested that the less the Democracy then said about Douglas, the less of their own words they would have to eat in 1860. And the above overt act now, is simply the prelude to the covert act that is to transpire in November next. The power of degeneration is as marvellously developed in the Democratic, as it is in the Moccasin family, and any one of these can swallow another of the same size.

And let it be remembered, that the late Senator, John C. Calhoun, the leading pro-slavery and secession champion, and at the same time an intellectual giant, said of this Democratic party, that it is applying for letters of administration upon the institutions of the South—that it was held together by the cohesive power of public plunder—the same power that holds the party of the highway robbers—and, that the doctrine of squatter sovereignty was worse than the Wilnot Proviso.

And let it be remembered, that McClelland is a Southern Sovereignty Democrat, and is also warm supporter of Stephen A. Douglas for President, in speaking of whom, Jeff. Davis, O. R. Singleton and L. Q. C. Lamar, all said, he was as bad as Lincoln, who is a Black Republican.

And finally, let it be remembered, that John J. McRae, in a speech delivered in Congress, on March 14th of December, 1859, said, "I have this denial to make in the first instance for the Democratic party; that party is not a pro-slavery party, nor is it aggressive upon any section of the Union. I deny that it is a pro-slavery party." The Presidential election is coming on this year, and John sees a hard struggle ahead.—American Banner, Yazoo City, Miss.

OUR BRETHREN ARE ALREADY IN THE FIELD.—WHY STAND WE HERE INLET? It will be seen by the proceedings of the Union meetings in Clarksville and Atlanta, that the Union hall is in motion. One of the members of the Central Committee at Jackson, has written us asking if Yazoo and Holmes will not send up delegations to the State Convention which is to meet in Jackson on Monday the 23rd day of April.—What say the good people of Yazoo? Mr. W. gave us our majority in 1851 second only to Tippecanoe. Is the Union less dear to our people now than then? We believe not. Let us send delegates to Jackson, and let us show that the old Banner county of Yazoo is resolved to keep step with the music of the Union.—Yazoo, (Miss.) American Banner.

Nature Opposing the Progress of Man.

The following passage, from Mr. Buckle's History of Civilization, indicates in glowing colors the obstacles which the prodigality of Nature may oppose to the progress of man:

Brazil, which is nearly as large as the whole of Europe, is covered with a vegetation of incredible profusion. Indeed, so rank and luxuriant is the growth, that nature seems to riot in the very intonness of power. A great part of this immense country is filled with dense and tangled forests, whose noble trees, blossoming in unrivalled beauty, and exquisite with a thousand hues, throw out their produce in endless prodigality. On their summits are perched birds of gorgeous plumage, which nestle in their dark and lofty recesses. Below, their base and trunks are crowned with brushwood, creeping plants, innumerable parasites, all swarming with life. There, too, are myriads of insects of every variety; reptiles of strange and singular form, serpents and lizards, spotted with beauty; all of which find means of existence in this vast workshop and repository of nature. And that nothing may be wanting to this land of marvels, the forests are skirted by enormous meadows, which, reeking with heat and moisture, supply nourishment to countless herds of wild cattle, that browse and fatten on the herbage; while the adjoining plains, rich in another form of life, are the chosen abode of the subtlest and most ferocious animals, which prey on each other, but which it might almost seem on human power can hope to extirpate.

But amid this pomp and splendor of Nature, no place is left for man. He is reduced to insignificance by the majesty with which he is surrounded. The forces that oppose him are so formidable, that he has never been able to make head against them, unable to rally against their accumulated pressure. The whole of Brazil, notwithstanding its immense apparent advantages, has always remained entirely uncivilized; its inhabitants wandering savages, incompetent to resist those obstacles which the very bounty of Nature had put in their way. In their country, the physical causes are so active, and do their work on such a scale, that human civilization, that it has hitherto been found impossible to escape from the effects of their united action. The progress of agriculture is stopped by impassable forests, and the harvests are destroyed by innumerable insects. The mountains are too high to scale, the rivers too wide to bridge; everything is contrived to repress the human mind, and keep back its rising ambition. It is thus that the energies of nature have hampered the spirit of man, and the mind cowed by the unequal struggle, has not only been unable to advance, but, without foreign aid, it would not doubt have receded. Brazil, the country where, of all others, physical resources are most powerful, where both vegetables and animals are most abundant, where the soil is so fertile, where the noblest rivers, and the coastudded by the finest harbors—this immense territory, which is more than twelve times the size of France, contains a population not exceeding six millions of people. Professor Ansted adds to this testimony to the effect that the native Indians seem irredeemably, and sunk in most wretched barbarism; and that their progress, however, whatever of any improvement in the district, since man can find no spot on which to commence his operations.

ITEMS BY TELEGRAPH.

BALTIMORE, March 17.
A gentleman just from Washington says that the feeling of the Democratic Committee strongly favors having the National Democratic Convention meet at Baltimore as it appears to be impossible for the large masses of people likely to attend to get accommodations at Charleston, evoc at the most exorbitant prices. Prominent citizens offer to furnish the Maryland Institute, and several other large halls, for the committee rooms, delegations, &c., free of cost, and all the hotels and eating houses have made a pledge to make no advance in rates. The citizens also, without distinction of party, will throw open their doors for the accommodation of the vast crowds. As a further inducement, the B & O Railroad, and those connecting with it, have agreed to reduce the rates of fare one-half.

NEW ORLEANS, March 19.
The Mexican war steamer Gen. Miramon has arrived below as a prize, in charge of Lieut. Miranor, from Vera Cruz the 13th. Gen. Miramon appeared before that city on the 5th, and notified the foreign representatives of his intention to cannonade the city. He made an attack on the night of the 7th, but was repulsed by the Liberals, who are confident of a successful resistance.

The Mexican steamer Marquis arrived below an United States prize in charge of Lieut. Chapman, of the Saratoga. The Saratoga's men also captured the steamer Miramon, which arrived at noon. Both were captured off Anton Lizardo on the morning of the 6th after a brief action with a slight loss. The Marquis has a portion of the prisoners. The Probie is to bring the rest.

Alvarado is reported in possession of Miramon.

The exequatur of the American Consul at Vera Cruz has been revoked.

The city of Mexico was surrounded by the Liberals.

The city was great excitement at Vera Cruz in consequence of the action of the American squadron. The French and Spanish armies are very bitter.

Lieut. Chapman is the bearer of dispatches to Washington.

THE LATE FIRE IN MOBILE.—We are indebted to the Mobile Evening News for an extra clip, giving full particulars of the large and destructive fire in that city Tuesday morning, by which the theatre, twelve other buildings, and 2,900 bales of cotton were destroyed.

The flames caught in a kitchen in the rear of Dunn's restaurant, opposite the theatre, at about 4 o'clock A. M.

The building occupied by Messrs. Toulmin, Voorhees & Co., and the theatre on the opposite side of the street were soon wrapped in flames and rapidly consumed. From the theatre the fire extended north.

Mr. Dufield is a heavy loser, none of the stage scenery or mechanical arrangements of the establishment being saved, and all of the wardrobe left in the building being entirely consumed.

The flames completely consumed all the buildings to which they extended.

The exact loss, whether it is this disastrous conflagration it is difficult to ascertain. We are told that a quarter of a million of dollars will hardly cover it. The losers, so far as we have been able to ascertain them, are as follows:

Owners of Houses—Wm. Jones, Jr., Jonathan Emanuel, Mrs. Judge Meek and minor heirs of Hope H. Slater.

Occupants of Stores, Offices, &c.—Union Cotton Press Company; D. L. Cummins livery stable; W. H. Dunn, bar-room and restaurant; John Chenell, billiard saloon; Toulmin, Voorhees & Co., H. A. Lowe, A. Gracie & Son, Barnesley, S. A. Co., cotton buyers; C. D. Deas and George A. Tubbs, cotton brokers; Sydney T. Douglas, notary public; S. B. Baffie, cotton broker; Gray and Lewis Woodard, barbers; Frederick Hall, negro trader; J. G. Feldheim, consumer; Haydon & Stone, bar keepers; a shoe shop, cockpit, and fifteen or twenty private houses.

WHEN TO BEGIN.—"That you may find success," said Rev. Charles Brooks, in an address to boys, "let me tell you how to proceed: To-night begin your great plan of life. You have but one life to live, and it is immeasurably important that you do not make a mistake. To-night begin carefully. Fix your eyes on the farthest point of age and then say to yourself: At the age of four I will be a temperate man; I will be an industrious man; an economical man; a benevolent man; a well-read man; a religious man; and a useful man—I will be such a one; I resolve, and will stand to it. My young friends, let this resolution be firm as adamant; let it stand like the oak which cannot be windshaken."

The Bride's Warning.

BY ALICE CARY.
(The truth and beauty of this poem every high and loving soul must feel.)

We're married, they say, and you think you have won me—
Well, take this white veil from my head, and look on me—
Here's matter to vex you, and matter to grieve you,
Here's doubt to distrust you, and faith to believe you—
I am all as you see, common earth, common dew;
Be wary, and mould me to roses, not rue!

Al, shake out the filmy thing, fold after fold, And see if you love me to keep and to hold—
Look close on my heart—see the worst of its sinning—
It is not yours to-day for the yesterday's winning—
This past is not mine—I am too proud to borrow—
You must grow to new heights if I love you to-morrow.

We're married! I'm pledged to hold up your praises,
As the turf at your feet does its handful of daisies;
That way lies my honor—my path way of pride,
But mark you, if greener grass grow either side, I shall know it, and keeping in body with you,
Shall walk in my spirit with feet not the dew!

We're married! Oh, pray that our love do not fail!
I have wings flattened down and hid under my veil;
They are subtle as light—you can never undo them,
And swift in their flight—you can never pursue them,
And spite of all clasping, and spite of all bands,
I can slip like a shadow, a dream from your hands.

Nay, call me not cruel, and fear not to take me,
I am yours for my lifetime to be what you would make me—
To wear my white veil for a sign, or a cover, As you shall be proven my lord, or my lover,
A cover for peace that is dead, or a token Of bliss that can never be written or spoken.

Rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, bruises, sprains, stiffness in the joints or muscles, swellings, sore throat, earache or toothache, wounds, fresh cuts, corns, burns, scalds, piles, &c., yield to the "magic" influence of this wonderful Liniment.

For Horses and Cattle it is an infallible remedy for chafes, galls, scratches, cracked hoofs, lameness, sprains, swellings, splints, boils, bruises, swellings, wounds, cuts, and all other diseases of the horse, which animals are liable to from injuries or accidents.

Every Country Merchant should obtain a supply of M'Lean's Volcanic Oil Liniment. It sells rapidly, because it always cures.

A liberal discount will be made to merchants who buy by retail.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1860.

Look Out Delinquents!

We are informed that at the adjourned meeting of the court of claims on yesterday, a majority of the Justices in attendance directed the county clerk to publish in hand-bill form the names of all those in the county who have failed to pay their county levy for the year 1859. These hand-bills are to be circulated throughout the county, to be stuck up at every public place, so that the people may see who are those that have not paid their county taxes. This is a new proceeding in the history of Franklin county, and no doubt will cause much talk. We do not doubt that there are many who could if they would pay their county levy, but on the other hand there are very many who are really too poor to pay even that small sum. It is right to intermingle the worthy and unworthy, and place an honest man all over the country because he is too poor to pay his taxes? Is his poverty to be the means of disgracing them amongst their fellow-men? We say disgracing them, because the effect of these hand-bills will only be to mortify and wound many men who are amongst our best citizens, and to advertise their poverty far and wide. We cannot but regard this movement of the Justices as injudicious and highly censurable.

As the matter has already occasioned some discussion, we give for the benefit of those concerned the vote on the above proposition:

FOR THE HAND-BILLS.—Squires Crockett, Farmer, Chalm, Pindexter, and Bailey.
AGAINST THE HAND-BILLS.—Squires Gay, Morris, Bratton, and Reddish.

DEBARS NO DEFENSE IN AN ACTION FOR RENT.

In a suit for six months rent, tried in Brooklyn, New York, last week, the defense of uninhabiteness, on account of pre-occupation by a legion of bedbugs, was set up. The defendant is a lady eighty six years of age. The report from which we take this account calls her an "old lady," the reporter supposing probably that the high figure of "eighty six" would not be sufficiently indicative of the length of time she had inhabited this "mandarin sphere." The defendant admitted having taken the house for one year, but says she had to move out of the house again in ten days after she took possession of it, because the place was untenable from the hosts of bedbugs with which it was infested, but which were not visible when she hired the house. She said they got into and upon the food of the defendant's family, and on the persons of the family and visitors, and ate and bit their persons so that it was impossible to sleep or eat; and that said bugs were a nuisance, and rendered the house uninhabitable, unhealthy, and unsafe; and that "plaintiff" having known that the house was infested and beleaguered and rendered unsafe by this blood-thirsty legion, let the premises to defendant with fraudulent intent to do her injury," &c., and that "her defensive struggles with the aggressive hordes she encountered, and the cost of retreating before the conquering forces to other quarters, she sustained damages to the amount of $183.33, which she would throw in as an offset to the plaintiff's demand." Her plea, however, was not considered a valid one in law, and she was compelled to pay the rent due, amounting to $183.33. Since the law will not afford protection in this matter the ladies have no resource left but to keep a sharp look-out for the vermin when they go house hunting, and to shun the houses infested by them.

A special dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette states that on Friday Mr. Blair, before the Committee on Elections, made a strong case, which, unless it can be met and explained away, will insure him his seat. He showed by the most conclusive evidence, that the irregularities, fraud and corrupt conduct on the part of the judges in certain precincts, and the misconduct and ballot-box stuffing of the friends of Mr. Barrett in others will compel the exclusion of the entire vote in these precincts from the count.—This will take from Mr. Barrett upwards of 800 votes, overcome the majority returned, and give Blair between 200 and 300 majority. He also challenges about 800 or 900 individual votes cast for Mr. Barrett, and shows that they were fraudulent. This will bring up Mr. Blair's majority to nearly 1,000, which his friends claim is less than he actually received. The evidence is said to be very interesting, showing a systematic case of plotting and fraud never before equalled in this country, except in Kansas. The report of the Committee is looked for with great interest, and the discussion in the House is likely to attract the attention of the country.

COURT OF CLAIMS OF THIS COUNTY.—The court of claims held an adjourned meeting at the Court House on yesterday, especially to devise means to liquidate the indebtedness of our county. We learn that the county bonds to the amount of about $1,700 have been taken in since the last court, and that about $3,200 in money is now on hand to be distributed pro rata amongst the county creditors.—We are advised, further, that in May or June there will be the further sum of about $1,500 to be distributed. It may be safely concluded that by the 1st of July $6,000 of the county debts will have been paid off. It should turn out to be correct the levy of 1860 is believed will liquidate the entire remaining debt of the county.

THE BIBLE IN TEXAS.—In many of the common schools in Texas the exercises in the morning are commenced by reading the Scriptures and prayer. A general effort is being made to circulate the Scriptures throughout the State.

The Charleston Mercury says that the Carolina rice crop is a very large and full one. The whole present southern crop has rarely been exceeded either in quantity or quality. But this does not imply that rice will be cheap, for throughout all the east, from India to the Pacific, the crop is a failure. The deficiency in the supply is calculated to be one-third.

Percolomini is married, and the knot was tied doubling her to an Italian Prince in the city of Dublin. That lovely mouth, which looked so much like a just opening rosebud, belongs now to a noble Roman, a relative of one of the Cardinals. We envy him his stag-hound, but we do not envy him a violation of the tenth commandment.—Low Jour.

THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY.—W. D. Gallagher.

Among the frequent visitors at the Ohio State Library, within the past fortnight, has been a middle-aged gentleman, of quick motions and upright carriage, who has seemed to take particular pleasure in quiet corners, and dusty alcoves, where he has been apparently studying the lettered backs of ponderous volumes that have a look of antiquity about them—that is the antiquity of the Great Lullaby Valley of the United States. This gentleman is the literary public's well-known friend, W. D. Gallagher, who is under stood to be engaged in the collection of materials for an elaborate volume, entitled, "A Social and Statistical View of the Mississippi Valley, from its earliest settlement to the present day."

A work upon this subject, properly executed, will possess great interest and be of almost incalculable value. Those to whom Mr. Gallagher is known chiefly through his poetical writings, will not be prepared for the announcement of a work from his pen which must necessarily consist in great part of intricate calculations, huge columns of figures, records of settlement, details of educational and religious movements, vital statistics, steamboats, canals and railroads, laws, ordinances and constitutions. But those who know him most intimately, are acquainted with the fact that he is really an experienced and expert statistician, and well versed in the history of settlement and progress in the West; and a single discourse of his, which was delivered and published when he was President of the Ohio Historical Society, shows a comprehensive knowledge of the whole human movement upon the stage of this grand theatre, the Mississippi Valley, which affords one of the best guarantees that the work is in capable hands.

It is not designed, we understand, to bring out the "Social and Statistical View," until after the National Census for 1860 shall have been completed and published. This will certainly be a judicious and satisfactory postponement.—Ohio State Journal, Feb. 24, 1860.

A DOUBLE MURDER.—The Clarksville Chronicle gives the particulars of a most revolting case of double murder which occurred on Monday last in Christian county, Ky., about ten miles from Clarksville. The scene of the tragedy was Hinesley's blacksmith shop. William Broadbent had separated from his wife, and she instituted suit for a divorce. Charles Bowles, who, we believe, boarded with Broadbent, was the constable who served the notice upon the husband, and when he had done so, Broadbent said to him—if it had not been for you this would not have happened—alluding to the supposed intimacy between Bowles and his wife. Thereupon Bowles went away and returned with a double barreled gun, loaded with buckshot, renewed the subject, and as Broadbent arose to his feet shot him dead on the spot. Hinesley then said something about Bowles having done wrong, when the latter made demonstrations which induced Hinesley to run into the shop, which Bowles entered by the opposite door and presented his gun, which Hinesley seized and depressed so that when it fired the lead entered his thigh instead of his breast. Hinesley has since died, and Bowles has escaped.

MOBILE RACES.—The first race Thursday over the Magnolia Course, was for the Handicap stake for all ages, two-and-a-half mile heat.—Capt. Wm. Cottrell's b. c. Daniel Boone, by Lexington, dam Magnolia, by Glencoe, 3 y. o., 66 lbs., won the race, beating J. Hunter's ch. g. Nicholas I., by Glencoe, 6 y. o., 105 lbs.—Time—4:43 1/2, 4:42 1/2.

The second race was for mile heats. Entries.—Roundtree & Breathitt's s. h. Shanghai, by Albion, dam by Sovereign, 4 y. o., and T. & T. W. Dowell's ch. r. Exchequer, by revenue, dam Nina, by Boston, 3 y. o., Exchequer won. Time—1:51, 1:49 1/2.

In Friday's race were to run T. G. Moore's c. e. Marengo, by Sovereign, dam Isabella, by Boston, 4 y. o., and T. & T. W. Dowell's Fan tie Washington, by Revenue, 4 y. o. The race was won by Fannie Washington, beating Marengo. Time—8:32 1/2.

MOBILE RACES.—Second Day.—We learn by telegraph that the Association Stake for two year olds, $200 entrance, for which there were five entries, was won on Wednesday by T. G. Moore's b. c. by Brown Dick, dam Midway by Boston. The race was mile heats.

The second race was for the Battle House Plate, valued at $300, two mile heats, second horse to receive the entrance money. Entrance, 10 per cent. Three or more to make a race. Fanny Washington was first, and Alexander second, in this race. Time, $3:47 1/2—3:40 1/2.

There are two things that become early impressed upon every mother's mind: the necessity of a frequent resort to worm medicine with their children; and the great difficulty that exists in getting children to take the proper medicine. This last difficulty Dr. Bull has obviated in his Vegetable Worm Destroyer—children eat the lozenges as readily as they do candy, and the cure that follows is far more prompt and certain than it is from nauseous and sickening doses of worm seed oil and kindred abominations.

The students of Harvard University, near Boston, are systematically engaged in the development of their physical muscles. The Springfield Republican thinks that this will have a tendency to prevent them from engaging in rowing and mischief, but we have sometimes observed in regard to young men, that the more muscle they have, the more apt they are to seek all sorts of occasions for using it. However, let the muscles be developed by all means.

A medal, modelled from a design furnished by Mr. Lenz, at the order of the State Department, has recently been executed and submitted to the Department for approval. It is designed for a medal to be used in recognition by our Government of services rendered in saving the lives of shipwrecked mariners. The obverse of the medal represents a sailor bearing in his arms the body of another sailor; a beacon on an overhanging cliff; the shattered topmast of a wrecked ship, and the waves dashing against the rock on which the group is placed, sufficiently indicate the purposes for which the medal is to be used. A scroll overhead is intended to bear the explanatory legend. The design is an extremely beautiful one.

CHESS CONGRESS.—A Western Chess Congress is to be held in St. Louis, commencing on the 11th of April next. Of the many players who have been invited privately, Messrs. Morphy, Paulsen, Tilton, Dudge, Faber, Rowland, &c., have signified their intention of being present. Many others are expected, among whom are Messrs. Morgan, Kennicott, Nicholson, and Turner, of Chicago; Smith, French, Schmidt, Meredith, and Fossick, of Cincinnati; Ballard, of Louisville, &c. The Congress will be under the auspices of the St. Louis Chess Club, who have made such arrangements that all who attend will be provided with accommodations gratis while in the city, and treated with a brotherly love.

SALE OF HARRODSBURG MILITARY ASYLUM.—A bill passed the House of Representatives of Congress, on Monday, authorizing the sale of the Harrodsburg Military Asylum. The Secretary of War is empowered to sell it, after not less than sixty days notice, the minimum price being fixed at $25,000. The site, it is understood, is wanted for college purposes.

POST OFFICES.—Post-offices have been established in Kentucky at Horse Cave, Hart county, Turkey Foot, Scott county, and Black Lick, Logan county. The office at Calloway town, Calloway county, has been discontinued.

SPECIAL ELECTION.—Capt. L. H. ROUSSEAU was on Monday elected State Senator, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of John G. Lyon, Esq. Mr. R., having no opponent, the election did not excite much interest and the vote polled was small.

Delevan, Wisconsin, must be a delightful little spot to reside in for those who dislike trouble and are fond of peace. A short time since Mrs. Andrews and her husband were arrested for burning up the principal business block of the place. Mrs. Andrews recently arrested Postmaster Mansfield for putting her in jeopardy of her life, and Postmaster Mansfield has arrested R. R. Menzies, the attorney of Mrs. Andrews for slander, and after compelling him to give bail in $10,000, had him re-arrested for assault with deadly weapons. Lively times there seems to be at Delavan.

AT the funeral of a child at Acapulco, Mexico, the body was dressed magnificently, crowned with roses, and the table upon which it was laid was covered with flowers. The table was carried through the streets with the child on it; three or four men and boys walked in front, bearing rockets, and the military band followed, playing the gayest music. Regarding the death of children as merely their transition to an angelic existence, such an event among these people is an occasion of rejoicing, rather than mourning.

A STRONG MINDED DAUGHTER.—A young woman, Mary Kelly, was arrested in Baltimore, the other day, for stealing jewelry and clothing from her father. She stated that her parent had not presented inducements strong enough to make home attractive, and to overcome this fault, she resolved to appropriate to herself a portion of her papa's goods, and seek a home elsewhere.

THE WHEAT CROP.—The wheat crop of our country, and section of country round about, is looking worse than at this time of the season for many years past. It was "killed out," in the opinion of our farmers, by the cold dry freeze; and they will consider themselves fortunate in securing the yield of a quarter of an ordinary crop.—Richmond (Ky.) Messenger.

In Boston a majority of children born are of foreign parentage, chiefly Irish, and the same is the case in many of the large places of Massachusetts and other New England States. In the city of New York, which has a population of about 800,000, some 1,200 are Irish, and the total number of births during the year 1859 was 210 of which 100 were born of Irish parents, 14 of other foreign parents, and only 92 of American parents.—So says the Boston Transcript.

SOUTH AMERICA.—After a long struggle, the States of the La Plata are at peace. It is possible that a Pacific Railroad will span that continent sooner than ours. English capitalists propose to build one from Buenos Ayres westward, opening the wealth of the eastern foot of the Andes to trade, and reaching the ocean somewhere in Chili.

A new dime has been issued from the United States Mint. It differs from the old coinage in some respects. The Goddess of Liberty is in a sitting position, as on the old coin, but instead of the encircling stars there are the words "United States of America." The words "One Dime," on the other side of the coin, are in a wreath of cereals, instead of the old-fashioned wreath of ears.

THE 1ST VOLUME

AYER'S Agué Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Malarial
Ague, Periodic Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, induced for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of malarious countries.

No one remedy is leader called for by the necessities of the American people than a safe and sure cure for Fever and Ague. Such we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the disease, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from or prevents this disease must be of immense service in the communities where it prevails. Prevention is better than cure, for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "Cure" expels the miasmatic poison of FEVER and AGUE from the system and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its preliminary symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where FEVER AND AGUE prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection.

It is hoped this price will place it within the reach of all the poor as well as the rich. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinine or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysteria, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Yeast, and Derangement of the Stomach,
all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cure" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents, if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them.
Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and invigorating.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis, my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Constipation, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pains in the Head, Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions. It deserves an excellent remedy for the renovation of the blood and the restoration of tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate to employ it for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate.
While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefit on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

John Bull's Compound Pectoral

WILD CHERRY.
The seal of public approbation has been so unmistakably fixed upon this Medicine that the proprietor feels it to be his duty to call the attention of all those persons who are suffering from, or who are threatened with, affections of the Lungs or Throat. Its basis is the active principle of the Wild Cherry Bark, but it contains, in proper proportion, other of the most efficient pectorals of the Materia Medica. Its compound parts and proportions are well known to physicians, and the proprietor makes no secret of them, and they have been the universal approbation of the faculty, who, as a general thing, prefer using this preparation to any prescription which they can have prepared by a Druggist.

It can be procured from druggists and country stores everywhere.

HEALTH RESTORED!

DR. MOTT'S Chalybeate Pills.
An aperient and stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by continuation in Hydrogen of high medicinal property and extraordinary efficacy in a host of the following complaints, viz:
DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACI-ATION, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHEA, CONSTI-PATION, SCROFULA, SALT RHEUM, SCURVY, JAUNDICE, LIVER COMPLAINTS, RHEUMA-TISM, MERCURIAL CONSEQUENCES, INTER-MITTENT FEVERS, NEURALGIA, CHRONIC HEADACHES, FEMALE WEAKNESS, MIS-MENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, &c.
PIMPLES ON THE FACE, BURNING OF THE SKIN, &c.

The IRON being absorbed by the blood, and thus circulating through the whole system, no part of the body can escape their truly wonderful influence.
The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can for a moment be compared with the Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and sallow complexions indicate its necessity in all cases of every conceivable case. In all cases of debility (duor albus, chlorosis, etc.), its effects are delightfully renovating. No remedy has ever been so successful in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediate relief from gastric and stomachic and general restoration has no superior and no substitute.

Put up in neat iron boxes containing a full price of each box per box 1/2 box, 1/4 box, 1/8 box, 1/16 box, 1/32 box, 1/64 box, 1/128 box, ters, orders, etc., should be addressed to—
